Nancy Wynne Tells of the Engagement of Miss Agnes Lewis and Mr. Thomas Myer—Other Bits of Interesting News in the Social World

I HAVE a most interesting and delightful engagement to tell you of today. It's Agnes Lewis to Tom Myer, a Baltimorean. Agnes is Mr. Charles Maguire Lewis' daughter, and an awfully popular girl. They are to be married April 23, which falls on a Saturday in the second week after Easter.

Agnes' mother, the late Mrs. Lewis, was Miss Jean Rowland, and Agnes is related closely to the large connection of that name in this city. Her younger sister, Jean Lewis, became a nun some years ago and is at the Sacred Heart College in Manhattanville, N. Y. Both Agnes and her sister were educated at the Sacred Heart Convent, Eden Hall, Torrance, Md. And it was into that religious order that Madame Jean Lewis entered.

Agnes has two brothers, Edward, who is unmarried, and Fred, who married Louise Butterworth last June. Mrs. Quincy Adams Gillmore is Agnes' first cousin and Mrs. Frederick Henley is aunt.

Mr. Myer's family are Baltimoreans, but he has been in this city for several years in business and lives with his parents, who came up from Baltimore last year to be with him, at 7011 Greene street, Germantown. His name is Thomas J. Myer, and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Myer. His brother is Captain Laurence Myer, U. S. A., who is at Camp Benning, Ga. His sisters are Mrs. Sloan Simpson and Mrs. Oscar F. Lacey, the former of Elmhurst and Mary Myer. They were educated at Eden Hall also. Mrs. Simpson lives in Dallas, Tex., and Mrs. Lacey in Colorado Springs.
